TABLE OF CONTENTS

FOREWORD

The directions men take in their pursuit of the "ideal" are as varied as their number. Each person tries to realize his purpose in a manner reflecting his training and personal philosophy within a framework of restrictions imposed by his particular culture. The impetuous enthusiasm for change by the young and the tempering-resistance by the old are joined in a progressive movement toward a world steeped in harmony and respect for the individual.

The history of man's pursuit provides a record of his errors as well as his triumphs and presents a challenge to his successors. In search of a better tomorrow, we must be ever mindful of the sovereignty of the individual and the individual of the society of which he is a part.

The members of this year's graduating class carry into the future a hope for better understanding and the wisdom to accomplish the task given to their generation. The direction they will take to meet the challenge will be governed, to a large extent, by the freedom they will have to impose with a fresh perspective. The searchers for a commonality in direction will be rewarded by the mutual respect they will command.

During the first year of its existence, the cross country team did a superb job of starting the new sport successfully at Findlay High School. Coach Didich, also a newcomer to our school, was well satisfied with the performance of the team and thinks that cross country should be even more popular next year.

And what is the reason for this effluent complacency? One very good reason is a rather phenomenal record, eleven wins against only one defeat, compiled in dual, double dual, and triangular meets during the season. Led by Mike Wall and Dennis Barnes in particular, the Trojans placed eighth in the Ashland Classic, third in the district, and third in the Buckeye Conference. Mike set a number of course records during the year, including the one for Findlay's home course, the Hillcrest Golf Course. In addition he ran to fifth place finished ninth in the Buckeye Conference.

COACHES: Stozich, Anastasio, Van Osdol, Montgomery, Bochrath, Rose, Curlis.

The Findlay High School varsity football team, under their freshman coach Bob Bochrath, went through a year of rebuilding and planning for the future. Although they managed only a 1-6 record in the Buckeye Conference, 3-7 overall, the Trojans never gave up until the game was completely over. What they may have lacked in ability they made up for in spirit and determination. The backfield, including seniors Roger Routson, Jim Ferguson, Phil Kimler, and Jerry Aller, received more publicity than most of the players, but every game was an effort on the part of the team as a whole. A number of players, including Keith Woodruff, Rick Martinez, and a big talented front line, gained much valuable experience.

JUNIOR VARSITY

During the last week of August, forty-three summer-drenched sophomore boys came to the high school and started practicing hour after hour in the heat of the day. They gradually formed the rudiments of the junior varsity football team. From crude beginnings, the group developed into an effective working unit worthy of being called a team. A few had to drop out before school convened, leaving thirty-nine well-trained athletes. By the time the football season had started, they were waiting anxiously to exhibit their prowess. They achieved their goal to a certain extent, finally ending the football year with a 4-2 win and loss record. But the year did not end immediately. Those who were not trying out for basketball stayed with and worked with the varsity team.

J.V. CHEERLEADERS

L. Lutz, C. Littler, V. Adams, J. Delph, C. Jaqua, S. Wolfe.

The junior varsity cheerleaders, in conjunction with the varsity cheerleaders, produced an effective combination capable of boosting the morale of our rooters and urging our teams to strive harder toward victory. Having been selected by a panel of teachers, the six girls undertook the task of supporting the junior varsity teams and assisting the varsity cheerleaders in their work. They led the adult cheering section at the football games, led the entire cheering section at the junior varsity basketball games, and made a number of signs which were hung in the cafeteria. With the assistance of Mrs. Needler, their advisor, they organized all of their own cheers.

The Trojan basketball team provided another exciting season for its fans this year. Hopes were high at the start of the season. Led by a forward wall of Al Edginton, Mike Rieker, and John Hollingsworth and by the playmakers Mike Wall and Greg Lishawa, they sported probably the tallest team in the Buckeye Conference.

Coach Stozich and the team started the season very well, with some expert playing, and managed to transform the student body into one of the most enthusiastic and vociferous cheering sections in many years. The year ended, however, with an 11-7 record, 9-5 in the Buckeye Conference. The reserves compiled the reverse, a 7-11 log for the season.

Mike Rieker was selected to the first team of the Buckeye Conference, Greg Lishawa to the second team, and John Hollingsworth to the third team.

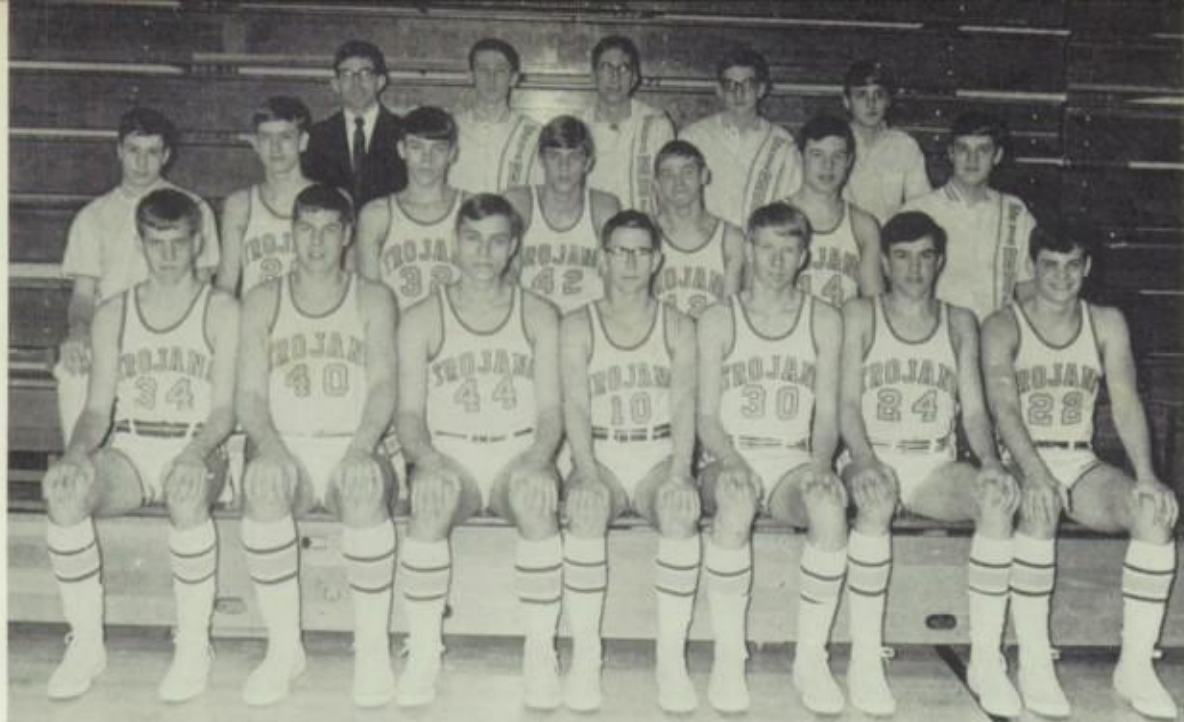

Coach Stozich, Coach Curlis, M. Rieker, J. Ferguson, J. Stozich, R. Blem, A. Edginton, M. Wall, S. Price, R. Lishawa, J. Hollingsworth, G. Lishawa, J. Poff, Coach Lobb, J. Baron.

The junior varsity basketball team at Findlay, in its first year with Coach Lobb, did a fine job of serving its purpose. Besides gaining valuable playing experience, the boys many of them the future basketball varsity at our school, managed to compile a 7-11 record for the season. Any of the members of this team would agree that the time spent was worth it, if only for gaining the ability to set up a goal and reach it honorably.

Every person has a different method of measuring the success of cheerleaders: how good-looking they are, how short their skirts are, or how many games our teams win. But it is very likely that the success of varsity cheerleaders during a given year can be measured and appreciated best by looking at the one essential criterion: spectator participation. Our student body and the rest of the cheering section this year were the most enthusiastic supporters our athletic teams have had in many years.

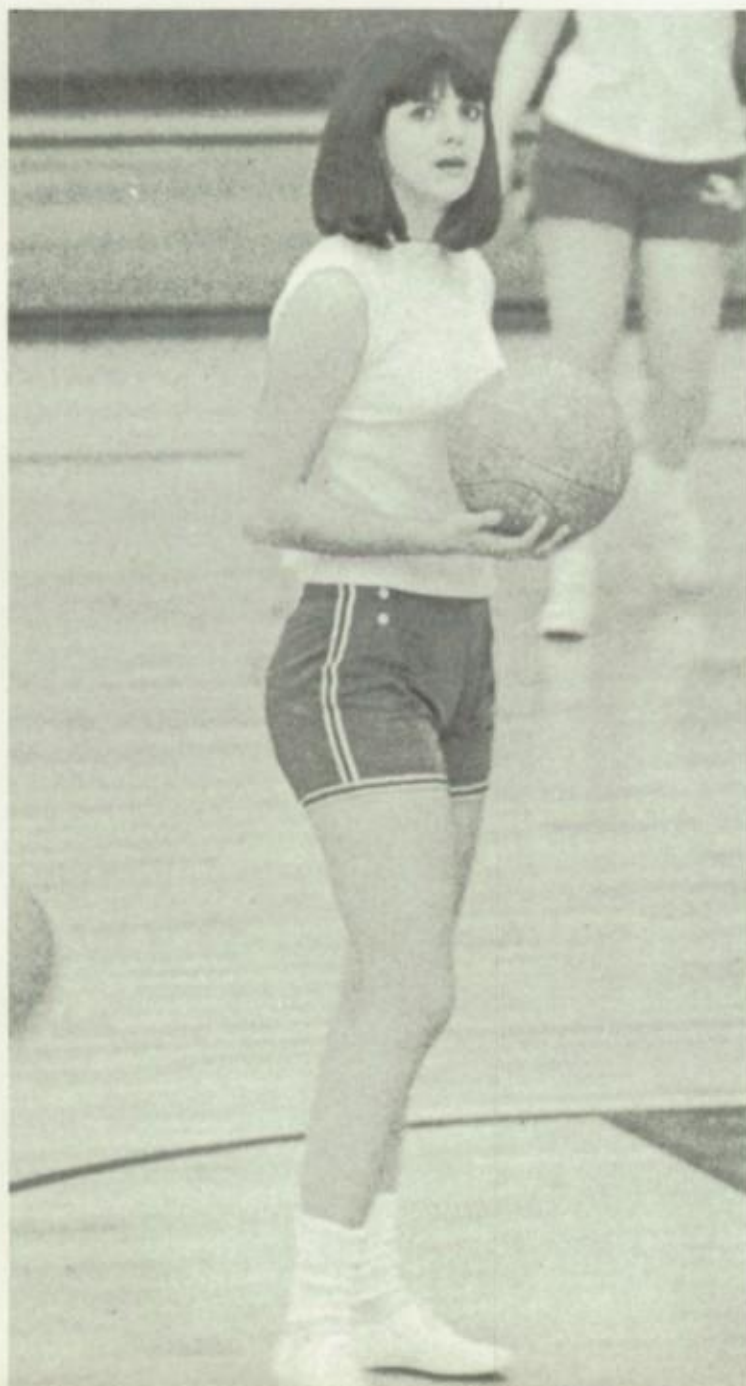

G.A.A. BASKETBALL

Six players on a basketball team, a penalty for dribbling too long, a penalty for crossing the mid-court line — does this sound like the basketball game you know? It probably does not sound familiar, because this is girls' basketball. Coached by Mr. Rosencrans and Miss Andrews, the G.A.A. team extended their winning record into another year.

The high point-getter for the varsity team, and also the most valuable player, was Sara Stalter. Captain Debbie Rosencrans also helped make the points and gain the victories.

LEADERS' CORPS

The Leaders' Corps is a new organization in our school, started this year by the girls' gym teachers, Miss Andrews and Mrs. Needler. The purposes are to provide a select group of girls with the opportunity to be of help to the physical education department, and also to accomplish some of the little necessary jobs that just never seem to get done. The girls who were chosen for the group gave up some of their study hall time to work in and around the gym. When classes were meeting, they took attendance, led exercises, and checked on showers. At other times they organized equipment or took care of other jobs.

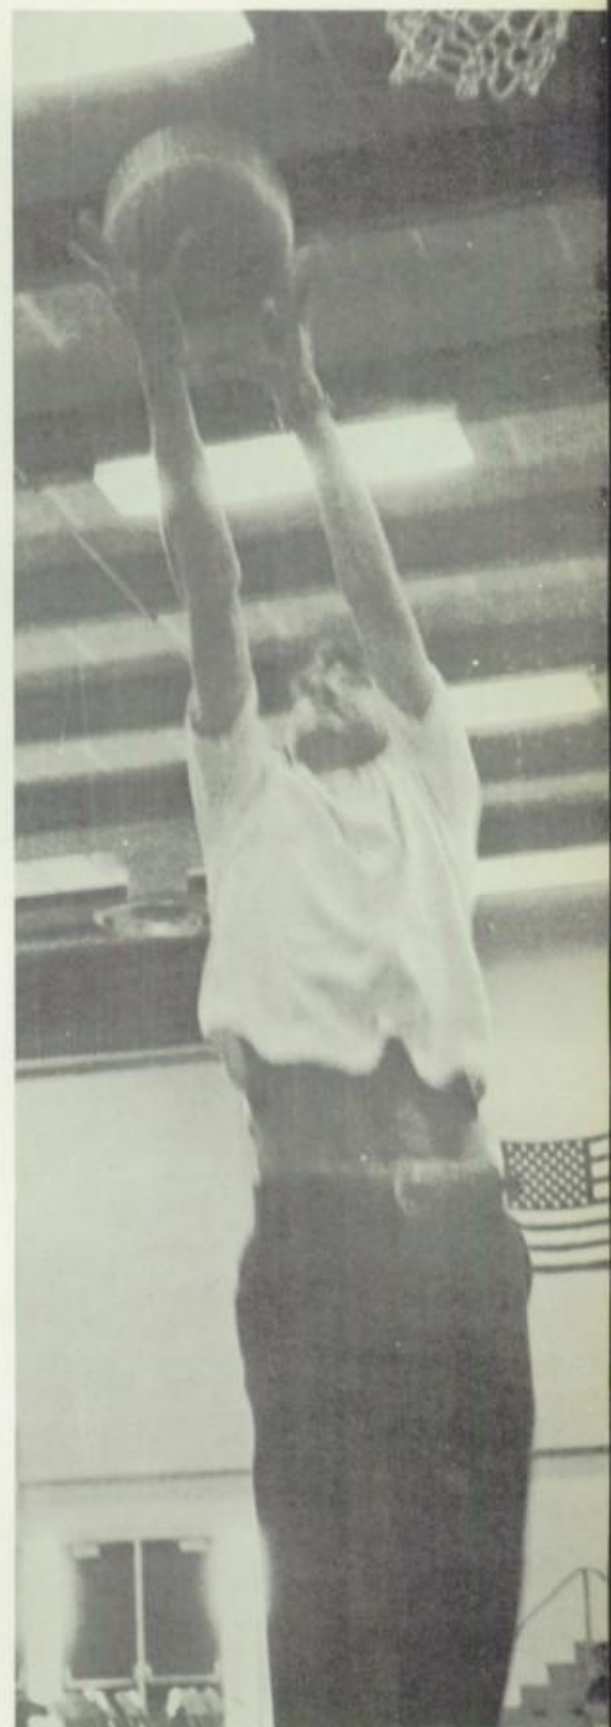

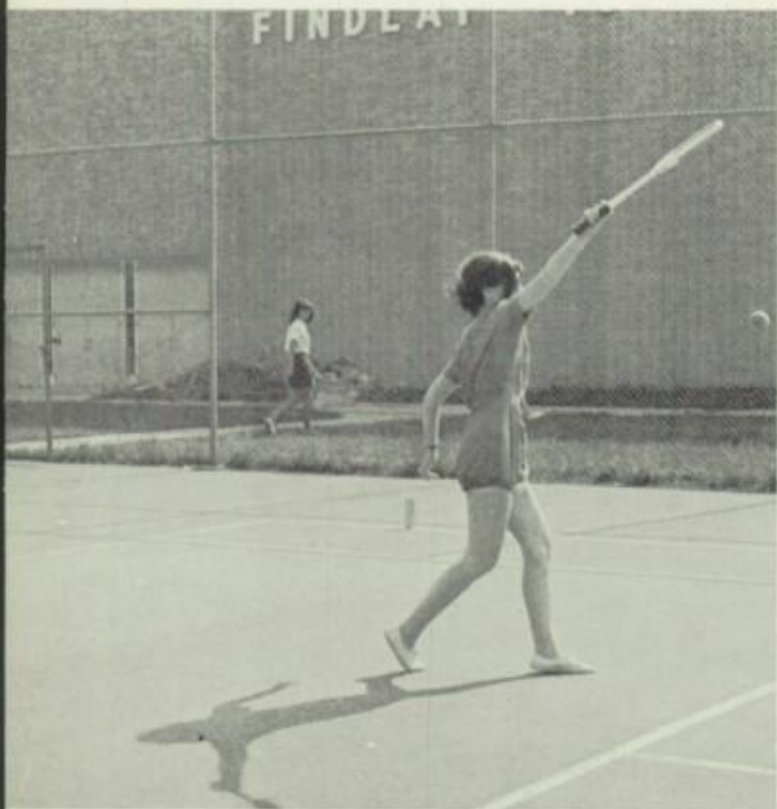

KARATE

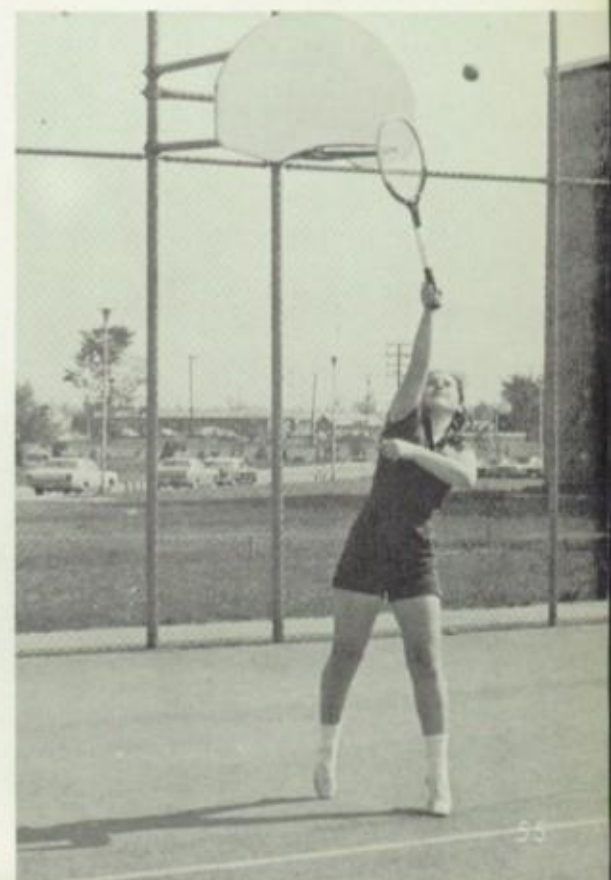

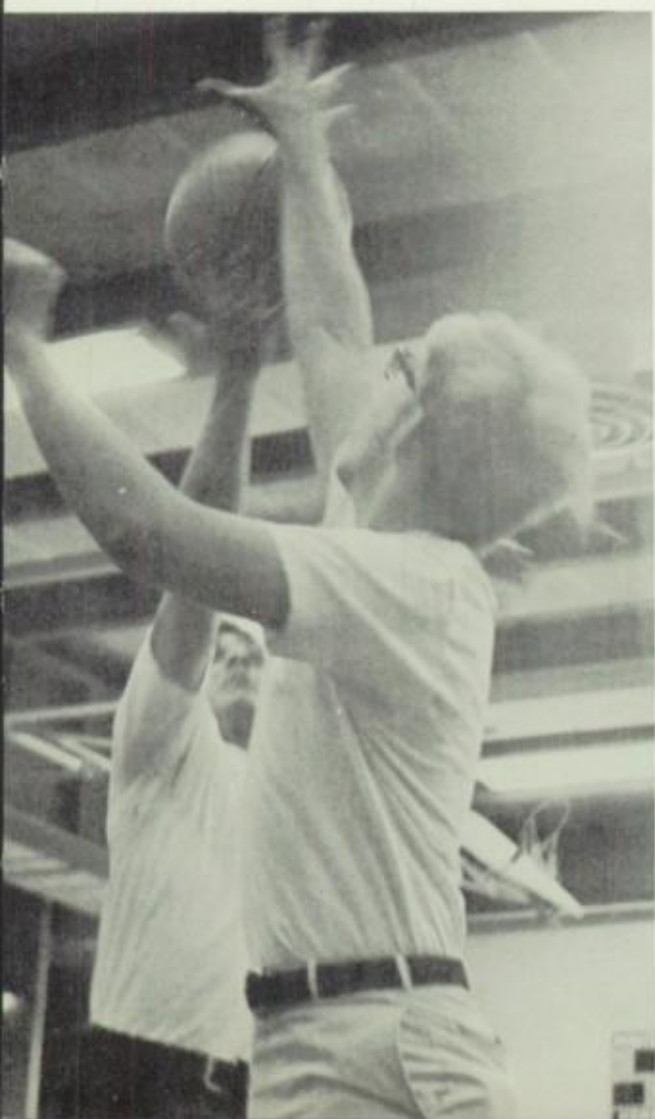

The administration and faculty at our school are always interested in satisfying the wants of the students, in particular their desires in the area of physical education. So, following an assembly on karate, when several indicated an interest in it, arrangements to satisfy them were made which resulted in the karate class that meets at night. After basic instruction, the students learn katas, patterns of counterattack and defense, in preparation for fighting. Under their instructor, Bob Jeffery, they hope to earn their green belts soon.

INTRAMURALS

Not everyone is co-ordinated enough or well-enough physically adapted to play on varsity teams. But a lot of people can play well and get enjoyment from it. It is for this reason that the intramural program was set up. Mr. Hoover, Miss Andrews, and Mrs. Needler arranged basketball for boys and volleyball, golf, and other sports for girls.

GRAPPLERS

To habitual television viewers, high school wrestling may seem dull. There are no nets to bounce off, nor are there tag teams or masked monsters. Thus genuine wrestling is a difficult skill to develop.

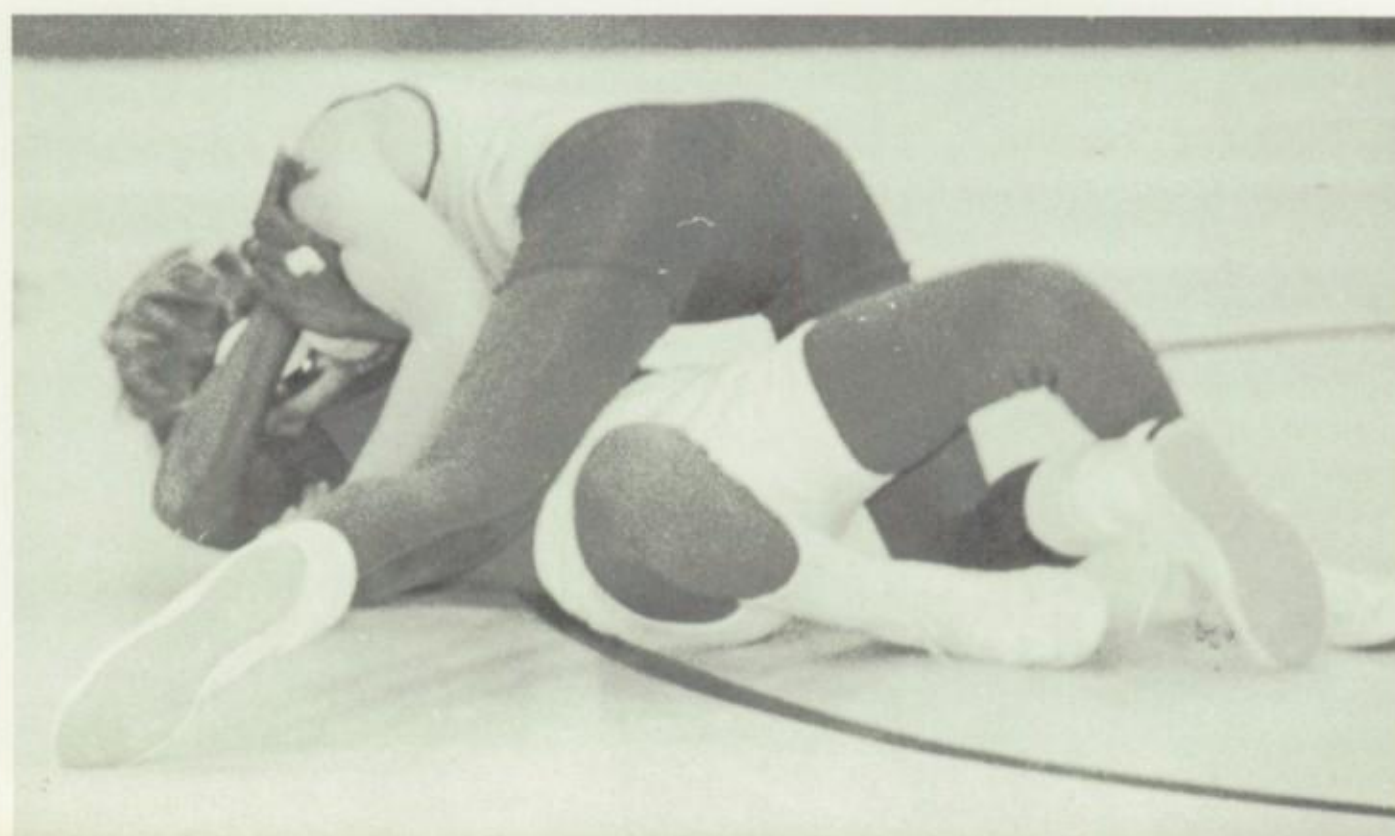

This past winter sports season brought together athletes with some of the most muscular and agile bodies in the school. Commonly known as the Findlay High School wrestling team, these boys limbered up and forced themselves into the peak of physical condition. Faced with a lack of size as a team, they made up for it by a fierce determination and aggressiveness.

Although the Trojan record was not especially impressive, Jeff Moore placed first in sectionals; Mike Delaney, third.

TANKERS

People gasping for breath, arms thrashing, legs kicking, a burning pain in the chest — what do all of these things bring to mind? Into the minds of many comes the thought of the high school swimming team. Whether at practice or in a meet, they try constantly to better themselves, struggling valiantly against time and the capabilities of their bodies. To them the fatigue of all-out physical exertion is not an occasional calamity, but an everyday occurrence, which they accept as part of the prerequisites for high achievement.

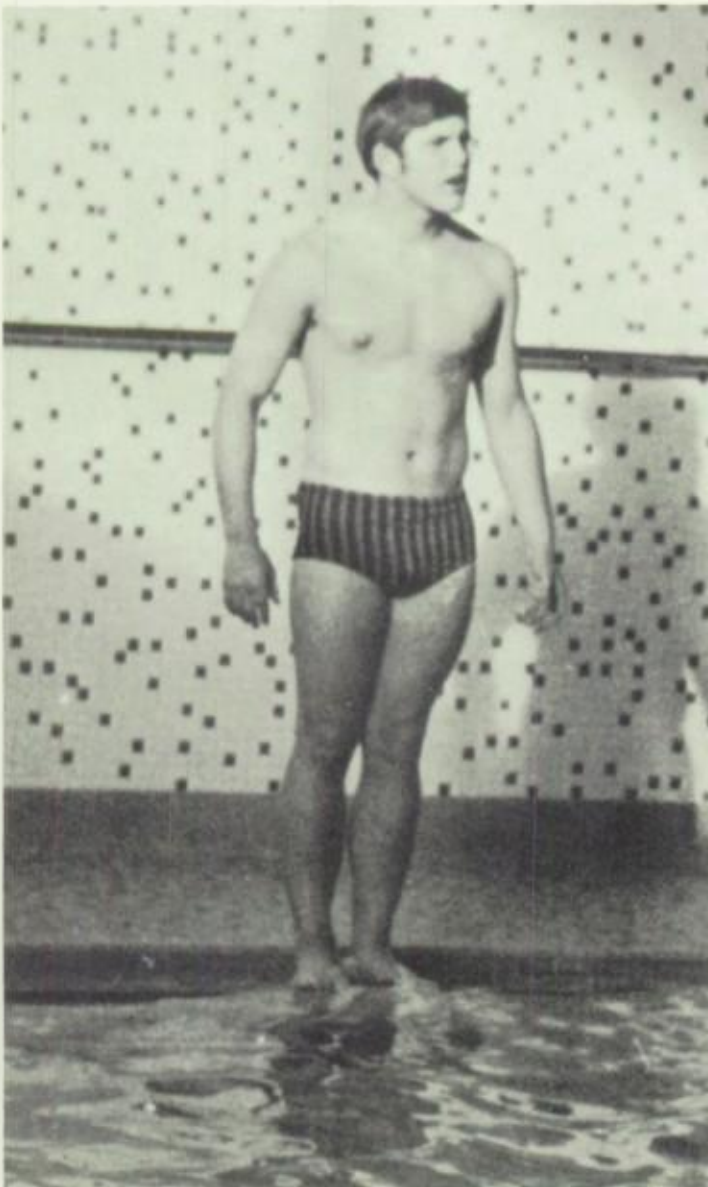

The boys who were the members of the team this year found their efforts well-rewarded, as they came home with the Buckeye Conference championship, the only such victory for any athletic team. The free-style and medley relay teams, Jerry Stevens, and Larry Reitsema qualified to compete at the state meet, but only Jerry managed to score any points in the competition there.

Before the baseball team had played any games, Coach Curlis, assisted by Coach Rose, thought that the year would be mainly one of giving the players experience. After all of the games had been played, he was sure that this was the case. The only seniors on the team, Jerry Aller and John Koehler, served as captains for them. They won only three games, while losing ten, but the best hitting average and the best fielding average were earned by juniors, Bob Colvin and Jim Baron respectively.

Constant practice, unrestrained will power, indomitable spirit, and courage in the face of opposition will get you almost anything you want, and for the track team this year it got them a 6-1 dual meet record and a very successful season. The team, under Head Coach Didich and Associate Coach Lobb, started to work out on the college track before the snow was entirely gone this spring. Many times they arose before dawn to come to the track for running and conditioning.

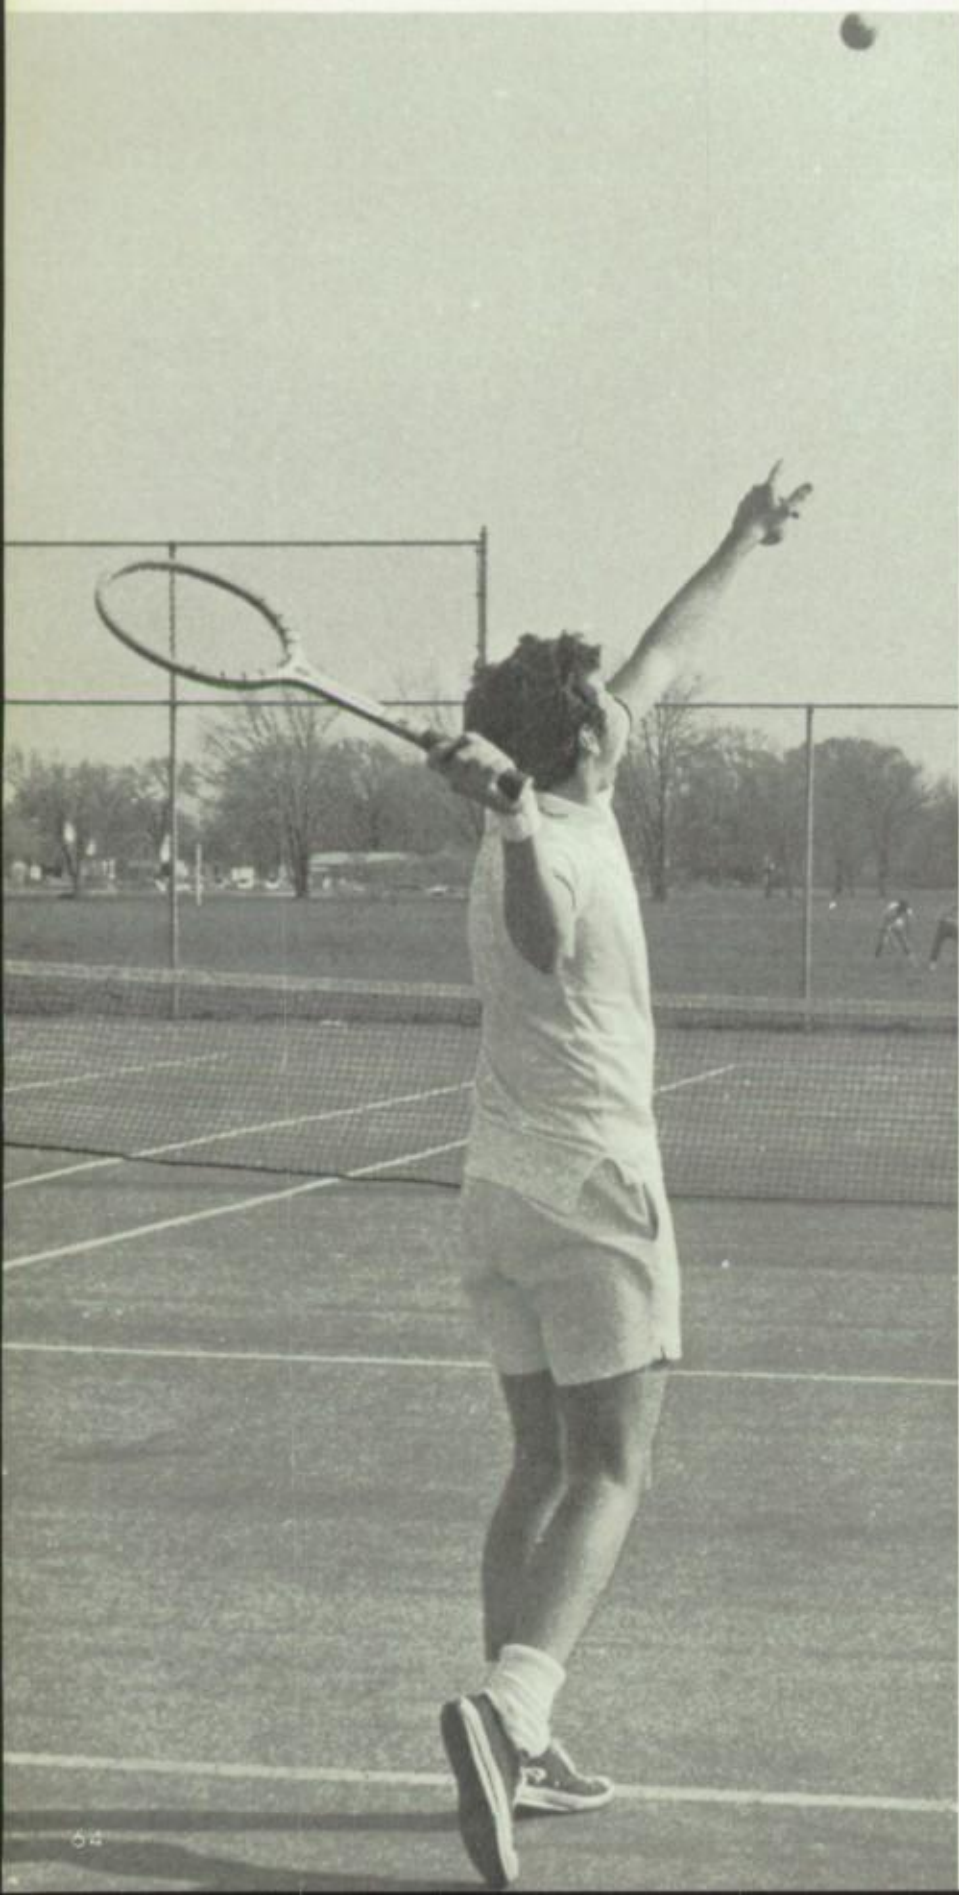

En route to this fine record and placing third in the Fremont Night Relays and fourth in the district meet, many fine achievements were recorded. Al Edgington, who also was our best performer in the 120 high hurdles and competed in the shot put and 180 low hurdles and other events, broke a school record for his toss of the discus. He was second in points to Rich Brumley, who competed in the 100, the 220, and relay teams. Captain Mike Wall was third high.

When February came around, Coach Hoover, in his first year at the helm of the tennis team, figured he would have to use the year as one of building, since he had only one returning letterman. A large group of boys turned up to try out for tennis, and they started to work out in the gym immediately so that they would be in prime shape by the time of the first match. Before many matches, it became evident that the netters were not going to be content with a losing year. The top players were all seniors anyway, and they wanted to win. By the end of the season they had compiled an 8-5 record, in addition to placing third in the sectionals competition.

The golf team at our high school has traditionally been one of the most successful of all athletic teams, and this season their fruitful history has been extended through another year. They managed only a third place in the Buckeye Conference, but they conquered the sectionals, placed third in the district, and placed seventh in the state.

But success did not come easily to Coach Dick Shelley's linksters. They started working on their swings at the YMCA before the season started, and went outside as soon as the weather was fit. Right away it was obvious that there were good golfers on the team, especially in the persons of Steve Fife and Dave Brand, who played exceedingly well.

Every other Friday morning something happens all over the school which is then the main topic of conversation for at least the rest of the morning. The event is the latest issue of the Blue and Gold, and the excitement is due to the provocative editorials, the blatant humor, the loose and easy style of writing found in the paper.

Editor-in-Chief Meg Baldwin, along with several of the better writers, have succeeded in making the paper more than a rehashing of facts. Their interesting style and sometimes pointed sarcasm reveal the writing and organizing genius which earned them the title of best paper in its class in northwest Ohio, and enabled several staff members to belong to Quill and Scroll, an international honor society for high school journalists.

The Trojan Yearbook staff members, in an unceasing effort to provide a more vivid representation of our days in high school, have made some changes. Several considerations for improvement convinced them to change publishing companies to the Anchor Press. Some of the members, including Business Manager Becky Laub, Copy Editor Rod Wynkoop, and the advisor Mr. Schellin, have offered new ideas, but the decisions ultimately rested on Editor Sue Barrett.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council this year, under the presidency of Mike Dillon and the advisorship of Mr. Bell, tried to make improvements upon its past. The members wanted to make the Council more responsive to the desires of the student body and so to make it a more effective liaison between the students and the administration. They wanted to be sure that every member was doing his part by reporting to his home room and by participating in all of the Council activities.

Such general ideas for improvement do not lend themselves well to an evaluation of the degree to which they were successful. However, it was evident that the Student Council was more active this year, and it certainly seemed that all were helping in its work. In addition to its annual projects, the Council started the President's Council and adopted a student dress code.

M. Hover, treasurer, S. Silverstein, vice president, J. McKinnell, secretary, M. Dillon, president, J. Koehler, sergeant at arms, R. Wynkoop, parliamentarian.

KEY CLUB

Key Club, an international organization under the sponsorship of Kiwanis, has as its sole purpose the giving of unselfish service to others. The international theme for the year 1968-1969 was "Influence through example," and the forty-two members of Key Club attempted to do just that. Their projects varied from distributing Salvation Army Christmas baskets to needy families to heading the AFS Stock Sale to raise money for next year's AFS student. They did several projects aimed at raising money, a large portion of which was donated to worthy groups. Some of these included an after-the-game dance and a couple of nights crating chickens for a local chicken farm. They have done numerous smaller service projects for the school, including the relocating of the lost and found. Some of them attended the Ohio Workshop in Columbus and the Ohio Convention in Cleveland.

D. Barkey, B. Saunders, D. Waaland, T. Kemptner, D. Fitzgerald, S. Pax, G. Windau, Mr. Bell.

DEBATE TEAM

Sharp, analytical minds, logical point-by-point proofs, deep philosophical and scholastic arguments — what do all of these bring to mind? Geometry class? Hardly. All of these can be found during eighth period every day in Room 237, where the masters of debate meet for discussions and practice. On Saturdays they compete in debate contests against teams in northwest Ohio. They were able to win their district, and so won the right to go to state.

SPANISH CLUB

To further the knowledge of students concerning the people and culture of Spanish-speaking countries is the purpose of the Spanish Club. The group has been addressed by several speakers who related their experiences abroad. Among these were Lydia Arellano, who told of her life in Cuba, and Mr. Nye, who has traveled throughout Spain. The advisor is Mr. Frost.

ROW ONE: M. Morgan, J. Trimble, J. Herring, D. Kaegebein, A. Kaple. ROW TWO: M. Salazar, J. Arrendondo, M. Gianetto, S. Carr, C. Rish, D. Graf, S. Hutton, L. Arellano, Mr. Frost, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Reardon.

ROW FIVE: J. Eisert, L. Arellano, B. Monroe.

On many weekday evenings, the group of Thespians in and around the auditorium was a common sight to those who came to the high school for meetings or classes. Tired, grouchy actors, crumpled scripts, someone lying on a table trying to catch a little sleep, others sitting together engaged in lively conversation, all were common sights. On stage, however, still others were busy practicing for one of their two performances, "The Male Animal" or "Martin vs. The World." The latter was a world premiere, written by Robert Barton.

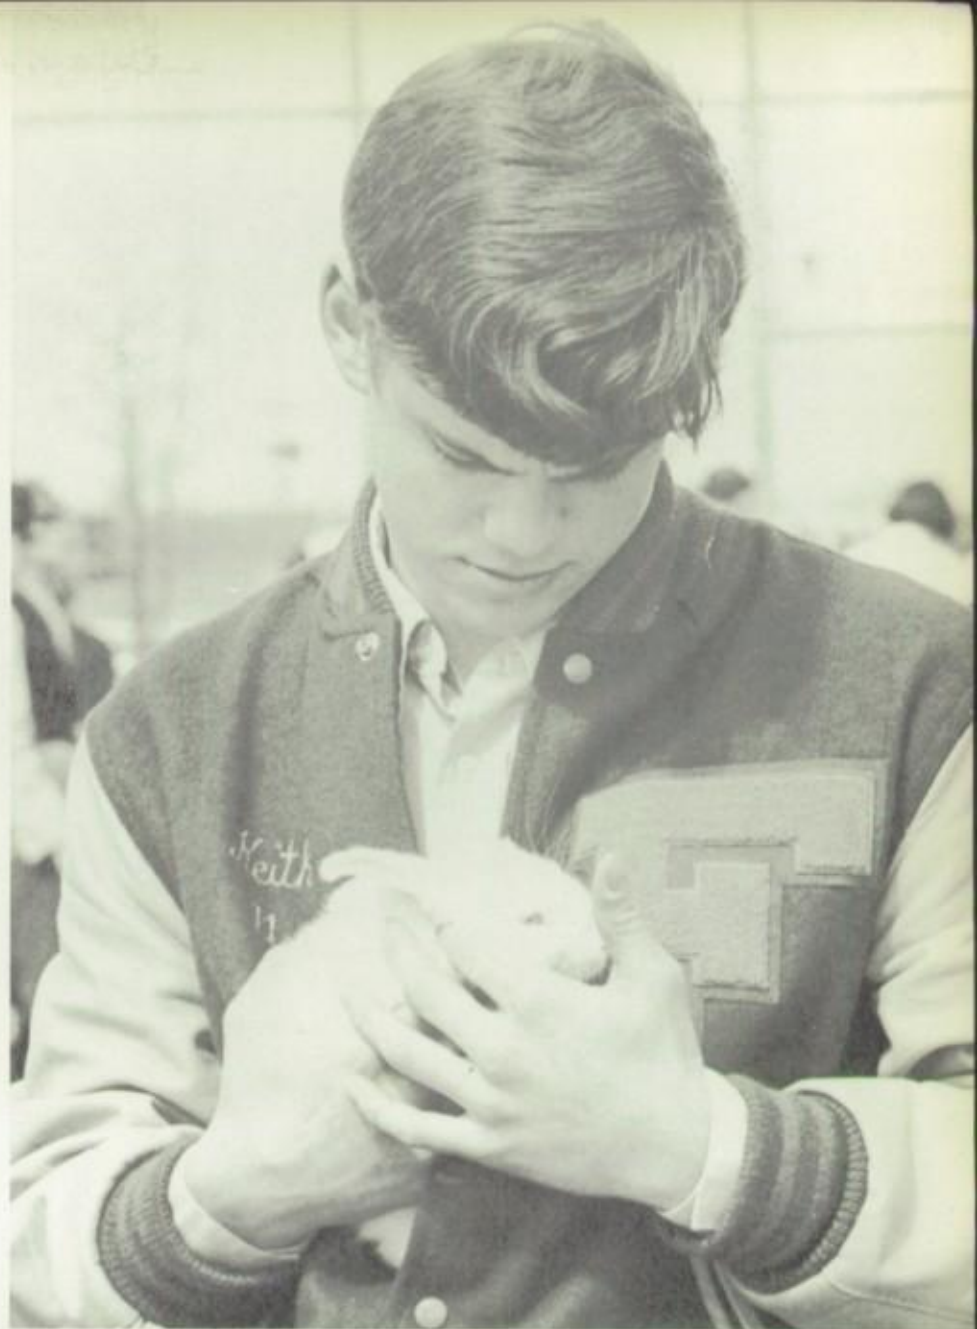

PEPPER CLUB

Perhaps the one thing that the Findlay High cheering squad is known for is its Pepper Club at the basketball games. Their organization, spirit, and good looks have made them famous throughout the Buckeye Conference, if not even farther. They are a morale booster to the Findlay fans and a morale breaker to their opponents. A revised card section and several new songs improved their image even more.

But the work of the Pepper Club does not begin and end on the home court. The girls sold programs at our football games, sold booster stickers, held bake sales during the lunch periods, and served at the football banquet. Through their widespread influence, we have become one of the most spirit-minded schools in the state.

VARSITY "F"

The membership of the Varsity "F" Club is made of boys who have earned a letter in sports. In order that those who get their letter in their senior year will not be excluded, four membership drives, otherwise known as initiations, are held yearly. After going through every torture and punishment imaginable, they are eligible to receive their letter jacket or sweater, compliments of the club. Varsity "F" members helped the cheerleaders in various ways, ushered at all home basketball games, and brought orphans to one of them. The big success of their year was the annual City Easter Egg Hunt.

WELDING

ROW ONE: S. Wilson, T. Kieffer, J. Guerrero, T. Haley, M. Saum, M. Montgomery, F. Lerma, Mr. Douglas.
 ROW TWO: R. Van Brunt, M. Reed, J. Crawford, R. Reed, J. Ebert.

VOCATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CLUBS OF AMERICA

To many students and teachers, the sights and sounds of the area of the building housing the shops are as unfamiliar as the back of one's own head. To the boys in the VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, however, the shop area is an area encountered daily. To some of them, the many hours they work each day in the shop are invaluable experience in preparation for lifetime work in industry or related fields.

ROW ONE: M. Keller, D. Jones, K. Kimmel, T. Stover. ROW TWO: C. Warner, Mr. Shelley, J. Marquart, D. Beck, T. Ward, R. Collins, B. Griffiths, M. Paxton, D. Grantz, S. Parish, C. Price.

DECA I

ROW ONE: C. Baughman, J. Mathias, D. Babcock, S. Keel. ROW TWO: P. Powell, J. Lamb, P. Leichty, P. Burlingame. ROW THREE: E. Manley, R. Crislip, L. Burrell, B. Myer, T. Cupp, J. Hines, J. Morrison, J. Waxler, K. Beverly, D. Anast, L. Carpenter, J. Huether, J. Okuly.

DECA is a club open to all students involved in the distributive education program. Its four purposes are to develop leadership, vocational understanding, civic consciousness, and social intelligence. There are two of these clubs in Findlay High School, DECA I and DECA II, under the leadership of Tom Cupp and Paul Peterson respectively. Projects for the year were weekly changing the indoor and outdoor announcement boards and distributing food to needy families at Christmas.

DECA II

ROW ONE: P. Peterson, C. Dillon, K. Gallagher. ROW TWO: P. Lowden, D. Haws, B. Springer, C. McNutt, K. Rettig, N. Quiroga. ROW THREE: M. Porter, J. Staff, D. Smith, T. Hildebrand, E. Deitrick, R. Smith, D. Day, C. Gibbs.

COE, the Cooperative Office Education program, provides an opportunity for students to prepare for jobs in business. These students take courses dealing with typing, shorthand, transcription, and others in the morning, and then work at a local business in the afternoon. Most of these jobs are as secretaries or similar office workers. In addition to their day-to-day work, the students in COE are involved in several other activities. They raised money by selling refreshments at the high school basketball games and held a bake sale. Two conventions and a trip to New York complete their year. The group's president is Margie Martin, and their advisor is Mrs. Wells.

ROW ONE: G. Woodruff, B. Edie, N. McCullough, C. Opp, P. Johnston, Mrs. Wells. ROW TWO: J. Zeller, B. Cope. ROW THREE: D. Smith. ROW FOUR: L. Trutt. ROW FIVE: B. Breyman, W. Sheperd. ROW SIX: M. Martin, J. Frey, P. Horner, M. J. Synder, M. Schilling, B. Williams, B. Okuly, D. Zellers, J. Warner.

Intensive Clerical Club, or ICC, is an organization for students who have a strong desire to work in the secretarial field. Toni Vertel is President of Senior ICC, Bonnie Polen of Junior ICC. Aided by Mr. Musser and Mrs. Cline, they learn and practice such aspects of clerical work as typing, filing, business law, consumer economics, and many others. They have toured an all-vocational high school in Fremont and the Marathon Oil Company, as well as having heard educational speakers. They ran a concession stand at the basketball games to earn money.

Future Secretaries of America, or FSA, is a newly-organized club under the advisorship of Mr. Wohlga-muth. It provides opportunities for girls interested in secretarial work to meet and learn about the profession. With Debby Lee as President, FSA sponsored a bake sale and other projects to make money for a year-end trip.

ROW ONE: D. Steinman, D. DeLong, S. Burden, S. Sutter, M. Letso, B. Bibler, C. Iliff, J. Dukes, S. Clinger, C. Miller. ROW TWO: M. Sheridan, D. Boone, V. Treier, J. Warren, T. Johnston, B. Styer, W. OFFICERS: D. Rosencrans, treasurer; S. Stalter, vice-president; C. Adair, president; M. Gibson, secretary; Miss Andrews, advisor.

The Girls' Athletic Association offered many activities to our high school girls on the Thursday evenings when they met. The most popular of these proved to be volleyball, but archery, field hockey, and basketball were also provided.

Those girls who were most interested in playing basketball formed the Girls' Basketball Team, which competed against and usually beat other girls' teams in the area.

One of the real highlights of every GAA year is the initiation of new members, and this year was no exception. These had become so violent and disruptive in the past that the girls were forced to hold them on a Saturday this time. The majority of the damage was done on the Athletic field, however, the initiates were then taken to the Teen Center to be auctioned off.

Other activities of the GAA included entering a float in the Homecoming parade and sponsoring their annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

CAMPUS LIFE

The Campus Life Club is a club open to anyone in the high school who has an interest in Christianity and moralistic behavior in a time when these are being avoided more and more. There are two types of meetings which the club holds—impact and insight. Impact meetings are designed to promote better attendance by the members by offering such interesting items as films, slides, and discussions. Insight meetings are for the purpose of discussing the Bible, parents, cheating, and other everyday problems.

Mr. Curth, P. Yuenger, G. Radabaugh, K. Leddy, B. Cheney, J. Delph, W. Snow, B. Pardee, J. Chavez.

AUDIO-VISUAL

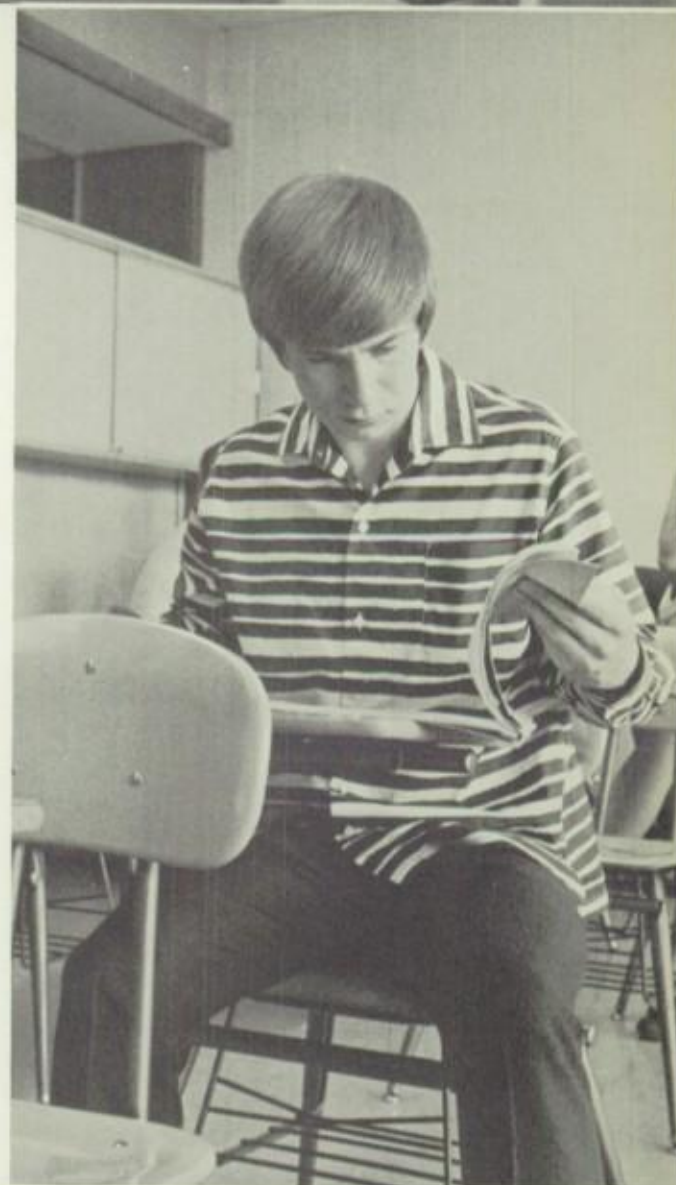

There is a group of workers, composed of not only boys but also some girls, which is responsible for the smooth running of the technical equipment around the school. They repair and show films whenever requested, and take care of the film strips and tapes in addition. They also fix the lighting for all activities except for those of the Thespians. All school classrooms and activities needing any materials must go through the audio-visual department to obtain what they need. A recent acquisition to the group's room is an air conditioning system, which keeps the films in good shape. The advisor is Mr. Curth.

AFS

From its beginning as a volunteer ambulance corps during World War I, the American Field Service has grown until it has come to play an important part in the life of many high school students.

The Findlay chapter of the AFS is one of the most active in existence. The club is made of the students who are interested in foreign lands and foreign peoples. At their bi-monthly meetings, slides are shown or speeches are given telling about foreign travel. In addition, the club sponsors an annual fund-raising campaign to pay the way of one foreign exchange student to come to spend a year in our high school. This money also helps two of our own students spend a summer abroad. AFS holds a tea, a weekend for area foreign exchange students, and, in general, acts as host to our own student, this year, Kalevi Matilainen.

FNA

The main purpose of FNA, the Future Nurses of America, is to acquaint students interested in nursing with this field. Various speakers have come to address them about such work, and tours provided even more information to them. In December, the FNA toured several hospitals in Columbus. They gave needy families food around Easter.

FTA

In a time when the number of students is increasing so rapidly that not nearly enough teachers can be found to instruct them, the work of the FTA, the Future Teachers of America, is well appreciated. The purposes of the club are to increase the number of students who will choose teaching as a career and to improve their quality by guidance.

RESOURCE CENTER AND LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

In a school as large as ours, with a library and resource center with the extensive scope of ours, these areas would be cluttered, overcrowded messes without student assistance. Several students have volunteered their time before and after school and during study halls to service the tremendous flow of books and people in and out and within these research and study areas. In the resource center they run projectors, help teachers find materials, put up displays, and process books. Their work in the library includes shelving books, making file cards, writing overdue notices, taking attendance, and checking out books.

Again this year, as in so many years past, the Findlay High School marching and concert bands displayed outstanding talent. Mr. Hite and Mr. Morgan feel that the band is one of the finest in the country, and those students who have seen the 150 piece marching unit perform at the football games can hardly disagree. Besides giving many entertaining pre-game and half-time shows, the band also has performed on stage, again being met with enthusiastic approval.

In addition to playing music, the band has worked in numerous other activities. They were able to add a flag corps to the band this year, and have campaigned hard to get enough money to purchase new uniforms, which will be in use next year. Much of this money was earned from the profits from the annual peanut day sale. This busy year has left prospects for future success.

BAND OFFICERS: President D. Dudley, Social Chairman C. Henry, Vice-President S. Huffman, Secretary-Treasurer N. Brewer.

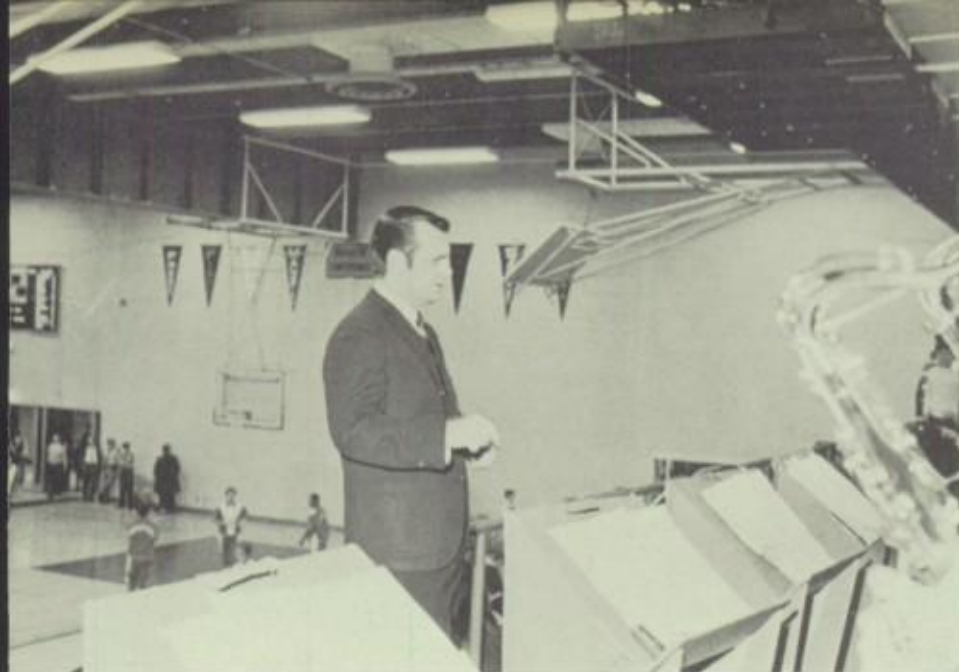

ORCHESTRA

The music department at our high school is one of the truly outstanding departments here. And one of the prime reasons is our orchestra. The director of the orchestra is Mr. Shell, who tries to play a wide variety of music, from strictly classical to the latest modern works. They performed at a number of concerts, where they surprised their audiences pleasantly with their beautiful sounds and their versatility. This year the orchestra was called upon to host the Buckeye Orchestra Festival. Their most recent acquisition is a harp which was donated.

OFFICERS: President J. Stevens, Social Chairman M. Hite, Secretary-Treasurer L. Gazdick, Vice President D. Stealey.

DANCE BAND

The dance band is one musical group that almost everyone can enjoy listening to. They can play just about any type of music desired, and they do it with finesse. The members are chosen very selectively from the concert band, so they are the very best that there is to offer. Besides playing at the basketball games, where most students have heard them, they have also performed at many dances and similar occasions.

The varsity band is composed of all band members who were not selected for the concert band, plus all sophomore band members, who practice with them once a week.

FIRST ROW: M. Corder, J. Stevens, D. Stealey, L. Butler, J. Goldsmith, G. Schinder, J. Wygal. SECOND ROW: D. Chennette, B. Bennett, G. Wisner, P. Saunders, S. Huffman. THIRD ROW: J. Hartzell, T. EISTEDDFOD WINNERS AND SOPHOMORE CHOIR

Mr. Jeffries, the choir director, really had his hands full of talent and enthusiasm this year. In addition to the Sophomore Choir and the Junior-Senior Choir, he found it to be possible and beneficial to form a performing group of smaller size, the Caroleers. These groups sang at the Christmas and Easter assemblies, at the Buckeye Choir Festival in Mansfield, at a number of clubs and organizations in the community, and at their own concerts. Most choir members participated in the production of "Carousel."

As part of the choir program, the annual vocal solo contest, the Eisteddfod, was held. Winners were chosen, two each from the soprano, alto, tenor and bass classes.

CITIZENSHIP AWARD WINNERS

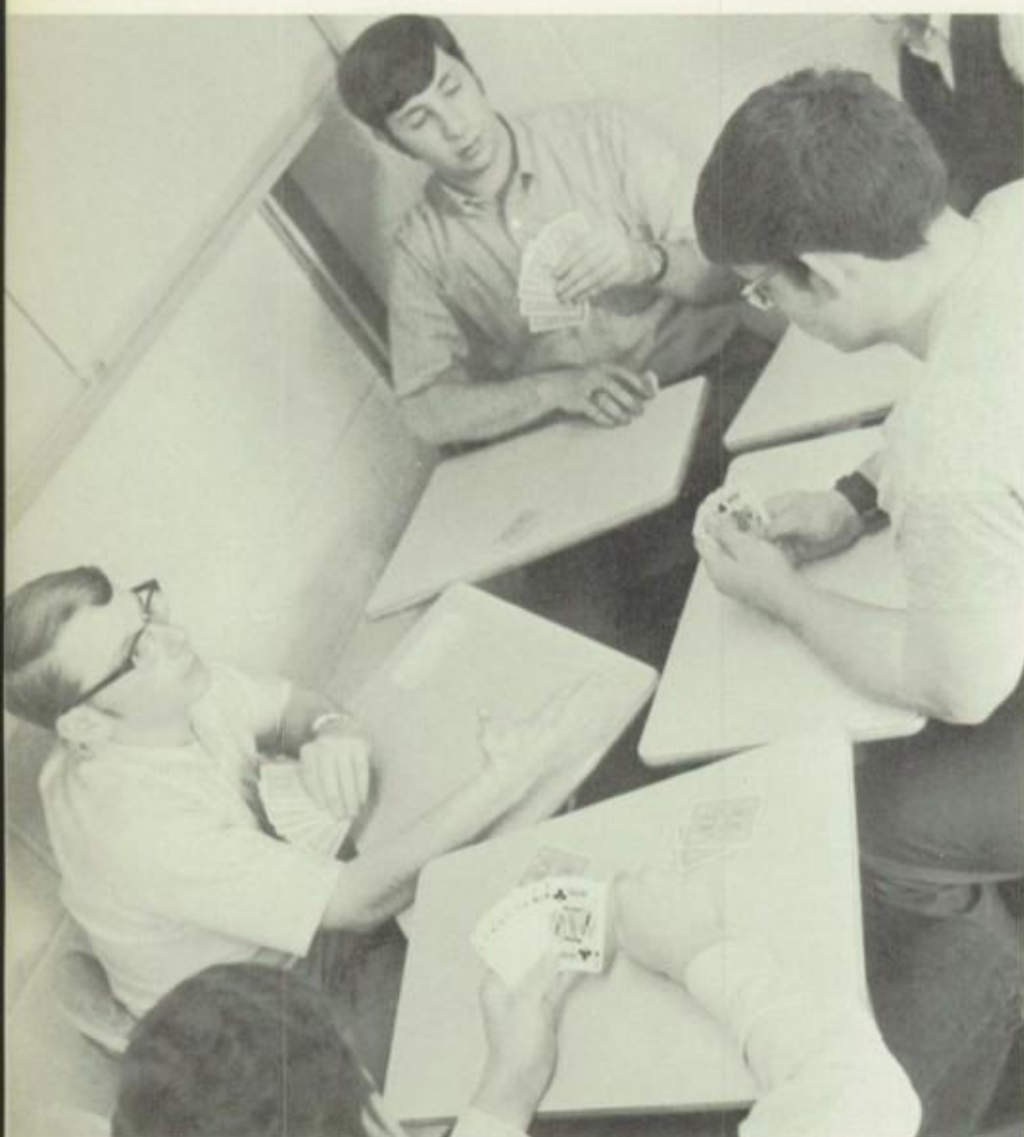

When schools were first established, their purpose was pure and simple — the education of the uneducated. As learning institutions progressed, particularly with the advent of colleges, people became cognizant of the fact that schools should also help their students become mature, well-rounded, and clear-thinking, able to survive well in the world.

Findlay High has traditionally produced a large crop of persons developed superbly well in both mental and emotional stability. Many awards honoring these human accomplishments have been given to a large number of deserving students. No arbitrary list of such students could be entirely accurate or all-inclusive, however. There will always be some who are omitted, either because they were overlooked or because there just were not enough awards.

Over one hundred members were selected for the National Honor Society, which was rejuvenated after more than twenty years of inactivity. The Rotary Club gave awards to eight students from each class for their grades, and also awarded three blazers. Seven seniors were named National Merit Finalists, on being given a scholarship grant. Our scholars won fourth, seventh, and eighth places in the state, and the year's outstanding citizens were elected.

D. Reamsnyder, A. Wynkoop, Coach John Pont, D. Lee, J. Hollingsworth, T. Wall, M. Whalen.

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL, WHAT NEXT?

If you are looking for something really different,
why not try
the new "Climate"
right at your doorstep?

The new "Climate of Learning" at Findlay College means greater flexibility of programs and course offerings.

Recent changes on campus mean that Findlay's College will aspire to even greater heights than have been attained in the past. The "Climate of Learning" study, the curriculum revision, the new term system, the addition of more meaningful courses (such as sessions on urban problems and race relations), and the expanding faculty and campus, do indeed, mean the total "Climate" of the institution is improving.

Why not ask our admissions staff about your Future at Findlay College?
It only takes a phone call to set up an appointment.

The TROJAN staff has tried to make this yearbook one that has reflected the memories of '69. As I look back on such a fabulous school year, memories of the TROJAN office and staff come vividly in mind. One cannot forget Becky's faculty, Eileen's proofreading, Theresa's divider page, Candy's sophomores, or Becky Clingan's laughing at Theresa. These girls I deeply thank and the photographers Dave and Jack for listening to my yelling throughout the year. Without these people, Mr. Schellin, and Paul, our representative, the yearbook would just be a book. The quotes and copy that are throughout the book are not just a jumbling of words, but are well thought out by Rod, our unbelievable copy editor.

This '69 yearbook is more than a collection of pictures and names — it is a book filled with future ideas for each reader to take with him as he is directed through life. Each person will go in a different direction after graduating, but in the direction to meet the challenge placed within his reach. The purpose of life is to be obtained by wisdom and an understanding of accomplishing a task. So, good luck in reaching your challenge and purpose and remember DIRECTIONS '69.

Sue
